Our Daily Bread

What Does It Take?

Read: Genesis 2:1-7

Six days you shall do your work, and on the seventh day you shall rest. Exodus 23:12

Today's technology allows some people to work 24/7. We can bring our work home or take it on vacation. Work is ever-present with us—except when the electricity goes off.

An ice storm last winter covered several states in a thick glasslike glaze. Trees and branches fell, blocking roads and keeping people home. Power lines fell, leaving people in cold darkness, unable to accomplish anything that required electricity.

Whenever something like this interrupts my life, I realize how important my own work is to me. Without it, I feel unimportant, unproductive, and useless. But God doesn't want work to be that important to us, and we shouldn't need a power outage to get us to stop. In the Old Testament, God had a plan for getting His people to stop and pay attention to Him. It was called Sabbath. On the seventh day of the week, they were to stop their work (Ex. 23:12).

Although New Testament believers aren't required to keep this law, rest is still important. Practicing a day of rest can keep us from the faulty belief that our work is more important than God's.

What does it take to make you stop and pay attention to God? By Julie Ackerman Link

He gives me work that I may seek His rest,
He gives me strength to meet the hardest test;
And as I walk in providential grace, I find that joy goes with me, at God's pace. Gustafson

If we do not come apart and rest awhile, we may just plain come apart. —Havner

"A Dull Pencil is Better than a Sharp Mind"

The Benefits of Checklists (Part 1 of 2)

How's your memory? If you are a regular reader of this column, you might recall I wrote a piece titled, "Don't Allow 'I Forgot It' to Be Part of Your Deer Hunting Experience", that ran in the Nov. 29, 2019 edition (#2484) of the Weekly Bargain Bulletin. Appearing on the eve of our Saturday opener of the PA firearms deer season, my intent was to help others remember to bring everything they needed for their deer hunt by sharing a few anecdotes on items of gear or clothing I've personally witnessed others forget over the years. My examples included: one's hunting license, a firearm, appropriate cartridges, a knife, a drag rope, and gloves; just to hit the highlights. I should have known by writing about the foibles of others, I was just setting myself up for an eventual blunder. Well, it happened this year on opening day of deer season (the very next day after my column ran). Up until now, no one else knows about this glaring omission on my part until I put out there for the entire world to read at this point, but in the spirit of self-effacing humor and total honesty, I have to admit that I went deer hunting and I forgot my pants!

Now, you may be thinking, "How does that happen?" Please allow me to explain. On opening day, I hunted a favorite deer stand up in Venango County, which is 1.5 miles back in the woods and takes about 30-minutes to walk in to. From experience, I know my biggest challenge when it comes to keeping warm outdoors is perspiration. When I'm active, I can "sweat with the best of them", so I've learned to walk in extra early dressed lightly and then layer up in the darkness to prepare for an entire day's vigil. Well, that's exactly what I did in the pre-dawn hours back on Sat., Nov. 30, 2019. I made the trek back to my stand in a sweat-wicking polypropylene t-shirt and a familiar pair of Army physical training (PT) black nylon sweat pants with a duffel bag loaded with my cold weather clothing on my back. Arriving at my stand just over an hour before first shooting light, I took off my t-shirt and sweat pants, placed them in sealed bags to contain moisture and human odor, and began layering up. I always put my clothing layers into my duffel bag in reverse order of how they go on my body, so the outermost layers go in first and my base layers go in last. That way, I can just reach in, grab them, and start putting them on my body.

Well, that morning, after putting on my mid-weight polypropylene long underwear tops and bottoms, I reached into the duffel bag in anticipation of pulling out a pair of Army BDU pants, which is typically my next layer, and they weren't there. I immediately reached around deeper inside my duffel bag to see if they shifted location or if I possibly put them in out of their normal order. Even though it was totally dark, I'm sure my facial expression at that very moment would have been priceless, when the realization hit me, "I forgot my pants!" Now, all was not lost. I simply put my insulated camouflage bib-overalls on overtop of my long underwear without any BDU pants in between. To anyone else, I looked perfectly normal perched there in my tree stand all day. However, I knew I was missing something (my pants) and I had to alter my traditional routine at the end of the day. Typically, I shed my insulated bib-overalls for the trip back to the truck, but "sans pants", I went at an even slower pace than normal to avoid getting all sweaty.

The funny thing is I reviewed my firearms deer hunting checklist the night before and when I got to pants, I saw the Army PT pants, thought "I got them", and moved on. My Army BDU pants never crossed my mind at that point. I can assure you I've subsequently amended my checklist to include the designated clothing I walk in wearing (not sure why they were omitted before). My checklist didn't fail me, I failed to properly prepare my checklist to reflect what I actually needed. Next week, we'll discuss the many benefits of preparing thorough checklists for all your varied outdoor activities. They're a great way to actively look forward and they'll help you remember your pants and other critical items! ©WBB 2020

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

* The very first CD of a musical recording was made in 1982. The album was "The Visitors" by Swedish pop superstars ABBA.

* The name of the state of Iowa (unsurprisingly) comes from a Native American language. The original word, "ayuxba," means
"sleepy ones."

* It was noted Irish author and wit Oscar Wilde who made the following sage observation: "There are only two tragedies in life: one is not getting what one wants, and the other is getting it."

* Immigrants arriving at New York's Ellis Island in the early years (1892-1920s) were given bananas to eat.
Many had never seen a banana and didn't know how to eat one - some ate the whole thing, peel and all.

* Early science-fiction author E.E. "Doc" Smith wasn't just a writer; he also was an engineer. He's the guy who figured out how to get powdered sugar to stick to doughnuts.

* If you're thinking about moving to another country, you might want to consider Finland. In that country, employees are offered, on average, 44 paid vacation days every year. Of course, you might want to consider that even in the warm southwestern part of the country, winters last about 100 days, with snow covering the ground from mid-October to early May.

Thought for the Day:
"To be capable of embarrassment is the beginning of moral consciousness. Honor grows from qualms." - John Leonard

justice only in this world, who would escape? No, it is better to be generous for it gains us gratitude."
- Mark Twain

Now Here's A Tip
by JoAnn Derson

• "Our neighbor's dog kept getting into the trash while they were out. They bought a crate, but he barked too much when he was in it. They saw online where someone put their trash can in a dog crate and let the dog have the run of the house. He tried it, and it only took a couple of weeks before they no longer needed a crate. Mr. Dog doesn't mess with the trash anymore." - C.M. in Virginia

Donna's Day

Creative family fun

Bundt Pans Give Form to Winter Ice Lanterns

Ice is nice! Especially when you create a warm welcome to your home with a creative, icy greeting on a dark winter's night. From popular snowball-size ice candles to large blocks, they all sparkle and glow to line a pathway to your front door.

Easy for me to say, I know, since I live in snow-covered Minnesota, where it's usually below freezing all winter long. But I proved that I could light the night and create an ice luminary in a moderate climate when I invited friends to our California cabin recently. Two days before the party, I rooted through cupboards in search of a Bundt pan. I then filled the mold with water and let it freeze in our freezer.

Before friends arrived the next evening, I popped the beautifully shaped "ice lantern" out of the mold, set it on a rimmed tray (to catch melting ice) and placed it on the front porch step with a lighted votive in the inside cavity. Once guests arrived, oohing and ahing with "How did you make that?" queries, I brought it inside for a magical buffet centerpiece. Although it was partially melted by evening's end, another luminary was prepping in the freezer for another night.

If you have a Bundt pan hiding in your cupboards, bring it out and make ice lanterns with your kids. The price is right with this enjoyable craft — your only cost is water and candles! Here's how:

BUNDT PAN ICE LANTERN

Here's the stuff you need:

- one metal Bundt pan (plastic pans may crack)
- water
- votive or small pillar candle
- citrus slices, floral greens and sticks, etc. (optional)
- food coloring (optional)

1. Fill the pan with water to within an inch of the rim. Wedge in floral objects between the sides of the pan, if you wish. Small objects, such as plastic fish, add whimsy. Or, add a drop of food coloring.

2. Place pan in the freezer or outside if it is below freezing.

3. When frozen, turn upside-down in a sink. Let it thaw a bit, and slowly lift pan. Or, run water over pan to release.

4. Set a candle inside. At sunset, an adult can light the candle.

Note: An adult should always be present when burning candles.

"Happy Brrrrrr-thday" idea: If you live in snow country, make two Bundt pan ice lanterns to create an ice cake. Go outside and stack them on top of one another, with snow spread like icing in-between layers. Top with pretend candles nestled in snow. "A slice of ice, anyone?"

Help Provide Care for Local Mothers & Babies!

Participate in a Baby Bottle Fundraiser for Alpha Omega Center

How Does a Baby Bottle Fundraiser Work?

- The idea is to fill as many provided baby bottles with as much change or bills as you can.
- Any type of group can participate: Church, Ladies' Group, Volunteer Fire Dept., Bible Study, School/Preschool Class, Etc.
- Contact Alpha Omega Center with how many bottles you need. (1 or 2 per family)
- A Speaker from Alpha Omega Center can visit your group to talk about services & be on hand to answer questions.
- Your group then collects the baby bottles & schedules a time for an Alpha Omega Center staff member to pick them up & count them.
- To Participate Contact the Office 724-794-3325

Catalina Castravet

3 cups uncooked elbow macaroni
2 tablespoons butter
12 slices bacon (diced into 1"-2" pieces)
1.5-2 lbs. uncooked chicken (cubed)
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
1/2 tablespoon paprika
1 green bell pepper (diced)
1 medium onion (diced)
2 tablespoons minced garlic
Cheesy Mixture:
3 tablespoons butter
1/3 cup all-purpose flour
3 cups milk
1 package Dry Ranch Mix (optional)
8 oz. pkg. cream cheese (room temperature)
3 cups shredded Cheddar cheese
10 3/4 oz. can cream of chicken soup, condensed Toppings:
Cooked bacon
1 cup shredded cheddar cheese
1/4 cup panko crispy bread crumbs (optional)

• Heat oven to 375°F. Cook and drain macaroni as directed on package. In a large skillet, over medium-high heat, melt 2 Tbsp. butter and cook the bacon, stirring frequently, until crispy. Remove from skillet and set aside. Drain grease, leaving only about 2 tablespoons in the skillet. Add cubed chicken to the skillet, season with salt, pepper and paprika. Cook stirring frequently, until golden and no longer pink in the center. Remove from skillet and set aside. Add diced onion, diced bell pepper and minced garlic to the skillet and cook for 3-5 minutes, stirring occasionally, until soft and tender. Remove from skillet and set aside.

Cheesy Mixture: In same skillet, on medium heat, melt 3 Tbsp. butter over medium heat. Stir in flour with whisk until a paste forms. Gradually stir in milk, beating with the whisk. Stir in Ranch Mix. Stir in condensed cream of chicken soup and cream cheese until fully combined. Stir in 3 cups of cheddar cheese. Remove from heat.

In large bowl combine: cooked pasta, chicken, veggies and cheese mixture. Stir well to combine and transfer to a 13"x9" (3-quart) baking dish. Top with the cooked bacon, 1 cup shredded cheese and sprinkle some bread crumbs on top if desired. Bake for 20-30 minutes or until mixture is bubbly and cheese is fully melted. Serve and enjoy!
