Bacon Wrapped Barbeque Shrimp

16 large shrimp, peeled and deveined
8 slices bacon

barbeque seasoning, to taste

• Wrap shrimp with 1/2 slice of bacon, securing with a toothpick. Be sure and use the large shrimp—the cooking time for the shrimp and the bacon is similar. If you use medium-sized shrimp, you might want to precook the bacon a little—over cooked shrimp are tough and rubbery—and a real shame. Preheat the oven to 450°. Line a jelly roll pan with extra heavy duty foil, and place baking rack in the pan. Place the shrimp on the rack, and sprinkle heavily with the barbecue seasoning. Turn and sprinkle second side. Set aside for 15 minutes. The bacon will turn from creamy white to a little opaque, and the seasonings will soak in. Bake in the preheated oven until bacon is crisp and shrimp are tender, 10 to 15 minutes. The rack keeps the shrimp from sitting in the draining bacon fat. With a little luck, you won't tear the foil—you can throw that away and only have to scrub the rack.

Cheddar Bacon Hamburgers

1 pound ground beef
1/2 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
2 tablespoons prepared horseradish
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
1/2 cup real bacon bits
4 hamburger buns

• Preheat grill for high heat. In a large bowl, mix together the ground beef, Cheddar cheese, horseradish, salt, pepper, garlic powder, and bacon bits using your hands. Shape the mixture into 4 hamburger patties. Lightly oil the grill grate. Place hamburger patties on the grill, and cook for 5 minutes per side, or until well done. Serve on buns.

"I have the right to do anything," you say - but not everything is beneficial. "I have the right to do anything" - but not everything is constructive. No one should seek their own good, but the good of others. 1 Corinthians 10:23-24 (NIV)

Father's Day is Sunday, June 20

LET'S HEAR IT FOR DAD!

Different ways to treat Dad for Father's Day

The month of June is filled with many different celebrations. Once summer arrives in June, schools shut down for a few month's worth of vacation and most recreational attractions, such as amusement parks and boardwalks, begin operating at full capacity. June also is the month to show dads how much they are loved and appreciated.

This year Father's Day takes place on Sunday, June 20, and marks the 111th anniversary of this day for dads. Even though Father's Day began as a regional event in the state of Washington, nearly 60 years later it would be recognized as a national holiday across the United States. Father's Day also is commemorated elsewhere in the world at various times of the year.

According to the most recent census data and statistics, there are 8.6 million fathers and father figures in Canada and 72 million in the United States. The following are some ways to treat dads this Father's Day.

Participate in his hobby

Dad likely has some favorite hobbies, such as playing a favorite sport, boating, hunting, woodworking, or restoring a classic car. Asking to join in to learn the ropes of his favorite hobby can be an ideal way to spend time with Dad and show you care.

Tackle his chores

Provide Dad a weekend off from his normal tasks around the house if they are within your skill set. Volunteer to mow the lawn, weed the garden, run for groceries, or get the car washed. You also may want to help him finish a project he started but hasn't yet completed.

Take in a show or a game

Maybe Dad has a favorite team he follows or a comedian he loves to watch. Purchase tickets so you can go in person. If that's not possible, make home viewing a special event by clearing a few hours of your schedule and setting up a comfortable viewing area. Make some special snacks and stream his favorite programming right at home.

Give him "his" space

Dads often make sacrifices for their families, and this could mean compromising on his comfort and pleasure to ensure everyone else has what they need. Create a spot that is entirely his own. This may involve renovating the basement or garage for hobbies or hanging out. Even a free-standing shed in the backyard can be billed as a "Dad Zone," giving your father a place to which he can retreat for some peace and quiet. TF206029

Make a list

A unique way to honor Dad is to compile a list of the many ways you are and will always be grateful for having him as a father. Adults honoring their fathers can cite specific examples they recall from childhood and young adulthood when Dad went above and beyond or served as a sounding board or shoulder to cry on. This is a great way to honor Dad and let him know all those sacrifices and special moments are still appreciated and will never be forgotten. TF196026

PAW'S CORNER

by Sam Mazzotta

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: I have an opportunity to adopt a wonderful three-legged, overweight, 4-year-old Shepherd. I'm happy to help him lose the weight, as I already walk 2 to 4 miles almost every day. However, I'm not sure if he can walk those distances. Can he be trained to walk with me that far? Do you think he would be able to swim for exercise? - Donna P., via email

DEAR DONNA: I've met so many animals that, despite a challenge such as a missing limb or paralysis, are still energetic and participate in every facet of life that they can.

Your potential new family member may be able to train up to walking a couple of miles, eventually. He's young enough, and Shepherds are certainly energetic enough.

His extra weight will make it difficult to manage on three legs. You can best control his weight through a diet prescribed by a veterinarian, rather than relying on exercise alone. Don't just cut calories without guidance, as he will need to eat good-quality food to put on muscle and get strong enough to walk with you.

Swimming, if he is comfortable doing it, can be a great option to keep him exercising while putting much less stress on his joints. Introduce him to this activity gradually, and don't force him into the water. Some dogs leap right in (I'm lookin' at you, Labradors), while others are hesitant.

If you're still on the fence about adopting this wonderful boy, talk to a veterinarian to find out what challenges you will face in getting him to a healthy weight. ©2021 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Now Here's A Tip by JoAnn Derson

• "Instead of baking soda, I use three or four charcoal briquettes in a bowl to control odor and moisture in my refrigerator. I place the briquettes in a shallow dish, then cover the top of the bowl with a small piece of cheesecloth and secure it with a fat rubber band. The best thing is that I can still use these briquettes on the grill. In the summer, they get changed very regularly." - M.L. in Virginia ©2021 King Features Synd., Inc.

"Pizza Puzzle"Helps Get Chores Done

Sometimes little ones get overwhelmed when confronted with a big job – like picking up a messy room. It may seem easy enough to adults, but to them, well, where do they begin? It's easier when the tasks are broken up into chunks, and that's what this activity is all about. Get a job done, but in slices, using this simple pizza puzzle game. Here's the crafting fun:

1. Take a large plate, preferably 15 inches in diameter, turn it upside down on a piece of poster board or a craft foam sheet, and trace around it. Cut out the circle. Divide the circle into three pieces like pizza slices, and cut them out.
2. Get your child thinking about pizza toppings and then begin to cut out the basic food shapes together from construction paper or craft foam. You might decide on red pepperoni circles, green pepper squiggles and tan mushroom slices. Glue them onto the slices.
3. Cut out the numbers 1, 2 and 3 from construction paper or craft foam, and glue one on each slice. While you are doing this, decide what part of the chore each number will represent. For example, when cleaning a bedroom, the tasks might be put (1) shoes in the closet, (2) clothes in the hamper and (3) books in the basket.
4. Glue a small magnet to the back of each slice. Let dry.

click on "Amped Coffee"

Here's how the game works: Watch your child speed into his room to get started! "Mom, my shoes are in the closet!" he might say as he completes the task. He'll run into the kitchen to place slice No. 1 on a magnetic bulletin board or refrigerator door. He'll run back to his room. "Mom, my clothes are in the hamper!" Up goes slice No. 2. "Mom! I put all my books in the basket!" Before you know it, all three pieces of his chore will be done, and an entire yummy pizza will be decorating your kitchen.

Of course, by the time he's finished, he might decide he's hungry for a slice of pizza. I'd hand him the real thing, though. Extra tip: As your child grows, make an incentive with a few more pieces using a variety of themes. For example, use white poster board and make five snowballs for a snowman, or brown poster board for a chocolate cake. Surprise him with a special reward occasionally when there's a significant chore to be tackled.

Outdoor Opportunities By COL (Ret.) Grey D. Berrier II

The Joy of Pursuing a River Monster with My Dad (Part 2 of 2)

When you hear the term "big game", most people's thoughts immediately turn to hunting. However, in outdoor circles, big game are also adjectives frequently used to describe offshore deep-sea fishing for large gamefish, such as tuna and marlin. While I may be in a very small minority, I tend to think of big game fishing in Pennsylvania-centric terms, since I do 95%+ of my angling on Commonwealth waters. In my mind, I lump four species into PA big game fishing because the possibility of catching an extremely large specimen exists, they require special tackle and tactics, and the current PA state records for all four species exceed 50 lbs. Those four species are: (1) muskellunge; (2) common carp; (3) striped bass (inland); and flathead catfish. While the PA state records for muskellunge, carp, and striped bass have stood for considerable time, the current mark for flathead catfish has gone up several times in the past decade, due to the expansion of the species into new waterways by human intervention and the possibility exists that the upward trend in PA flathead catfish state records will continue in 2021 and beyond.

After I realized I probably had my initial encounter with a sizable Susquehanna flathead in July 2019, I started to do more reading on the subject and watched a lot of YouTube videos. I quickly realized my standard bass, trout, and walleye tackle wasn't going to cut it, so I broke out my former Alaska salmon 8-foot spinning rod & reel combo and respoiled it with fresh 40-lb. test big game line, specifically for flathead catfish. I also purchased a pre-spoiled 7-foot Cat Daddy rod & reel combo as an additional catfishing rod for myself, along with an assortment of large 5/0 to 7/0 circle hooks and 1 to 3 oz. sinkers to deliberately enter this new world of PA big game fishing for flatheads, armed with the proper tackle. Knowing I would be heading out with my dad on the Susquehanna River for flathead catfish, I purchased a second Cat Daddy rod & reel combo and gave it to him as an early 2021 Father's Day gift on June 3.

It's just under an hour and a half drive from my parent's home in Allentown to our family's property on the Susquehanna River, 8-miles upriver of Harrisburg. Fri., June 4, 2021 was a beautiful day and we had dad's jon boat launched on the river before noon. Flathead catfish prefer live bait to dead cut bait, but our initial efforts to catch a rock bass, bluegill, or fallfish (a member of the minnow family) to use as bait were unsuccessful. In the past, we would typically catch one of those three species almost as frequently as we caught smallmouth bass, but I've noticed a trend over the past 5-years where rock bass, bluegills, and fallfish are getting scarcer. I'm wondering if that has something to do with the proliferation of flathead catfish as an apex predator. As a backup, I brought frozen cut bait, trout heads and shrimp, which was permitted to thaw overnight. While mid-day isn't the optimal time to pursue catfish and early June has most catfish paired up for spawning, I still thought we'd get a bite or two to prove the flathead catfish were there. After trying for several hours in numerous promising spots, we decided to focus our efforts on smallmouth bass, which seemed much more inclined to bite. Before we headed home late Friday afternoon, dad landed three smallmouths and I brought four into the boat, including a very nice 18-incher.

There is a 98-mile stretch of the lower Susquehanna River from Sunbury down to Holtwood Dam, where bass fishing is open year-round, but it is No Harvest and Immediate Release Only. We fish those designated waters, so all our smallmouth bass get immediately returned to the water, except for an occasional quick photo. Sat., June 5, 2021 was another gorgeous day to be on the river and I knew it was going to be a good day when my initial cast resulted in a respectable 14-inch smallie, in spite of my Uncle Bill taunting me from shore regarding my fishing prowess. I was using my favorite smallmouth lure, a silver/black floating Rapala minnow, this time in size 7 (7-cm /2.75-in.), tied directly to the line (no swivel). Between noon and 3 PM, we hit several spots, and I landed 11 smallmouths, while dad brought in 6, including our largest up to that point, a fine 16-inch specimen. With temps hitting 90-degrees, we went ashore around 3:15 PM for cold water and enjoyable conversation. I convinced dad to stay out of the sun, while I headed out for another hour or so before dinner. Between 3:45 and 5 PM, I was blessed to land nine additional smallmouths, including an 18.5-inch beauty and my personal best Susquehanna River smallmouth ever, which measured 22.5-inches and tipped my scale (which I had to break out) at 4.5-lbs. What a two-day trip it turned out to be pursuing river monsters and the greatest joy came not from the fish, but from the treasured time I got to spend with my dad! God Bless, Be Safe, and Great Outdoors!

Ashe's Calamint

Also known as

"Ashe's Savory" or "Ohoopie Wild Basil," the rare clinopodium ashei is one of many kinds of mint growing in the wild. It has gray-green foliage and light pink or pale purple blossoms, and can grow as high as 3 feet. It is a threatened species, growing only in a few sandy dunes, low scrub and roadside patches of Florida and Georgia. It is named after William Ashe
(1872-1932), a botanist and forester.

Our Daily Bread

Happy Fathers

Today's Scripture: Proverbs 23:15-24

The father of the righteous will greatly rejoice, and he who begets a wise child will delight in him. Proverbs 23:24

Some people have attributed to Mark Twain the statement, "When I was a boy of 14, my father was so ignorant I could hardly stand to have the old man around. But when I got to be 21, I was astonished at how much the old man had learned in 7 years."

The attitude of children toward their parents changes as they grow older. Some young people show little respect for their fathers and mothers. It's disheartening to see this. But as they mature, many begin to recognize that Mom and Dad knew a lot more than they gave them credit for.

On the other hand, some young people come to realize with deep regret that if they had followed the counsel of their parents they could have avoided much heartache both for themselves and their family. The Bible says, "Children, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right. 'Honor your father and mother,' which is the first commandment with promise: 'that it may be well with you and you may live long on the earth'" (Ephesians 6:1-3). The book of Proverbs counsels, "Listen to your father who begot you . . . The father of the righteous will greatly rejoice, and he who begets a wise child will delight in him" (23:22,24). Remember—wise children make happy fathers! By: Richard DeHaan

Above all else that you can do
To make your father proud of you,

Be diligent, be kind, be wise—

Such traits are priceless in his eyes. —Fasick

Your parents brought you up;
don't let them down.

Fun facts about stamp collecting

- Products were once advertised on the back of three-cent stamps in the United States.
- Graphic designers, artists and photographers are involved in the production of new stamp designs. Old stamps were printed using an engraving process.
- Aviator Amelia Earhart, actor/comedian Charlie Chaplin, Queen Elizabeth II, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, and musician John Lennon are some famous people who collected stamps.
