Outdoor Opportunities*By COL (Ret.) Grey D. Berrier II*Trout Season is Almost Here and the Great Thing is You Can Fish Your Own Way!

There is a well-known expression in the running community that applies to individuals of all ages, abilities, and experience levels. It states, "You've got to run your own race." What that means is whenever you lace up your running shoes and head out for a run, you've got to focus on your own personal goals, pace, and journey without comparing yourself to others or being distracted by their progress. It emphasizes self-reliance, defining your own success, and maintaining your own path, regardless of external pressures or competition. Trout season is almost here in Pennsylvania. Our statewide Mentored Youth Trout Day is Saturday, March 28, and our statewide Trout Opener for individuals of all ages is Saturday, April 4. What everyone hitting the water in pursuit of trout needs to remember is the spirit of "You've got to run your own race," also applies to trout fishing and everyone out there has the privilege to "fish their own way" as long as it is IAW established PA fishing regulations.

Just for fun, I compiled some of the waterways I have fished on opening day of trout season over the years. This not an all-inclusive list, but it represents the diverse fishing conditions where we can pursue trout in PA and how your tackle and tactics may need to vary to entice bites. From memory, my opening day excursions have included: Buffalo Creek, Deer Creek, Havice Creek, Jordan Creek, Kishacoquillas Creek, Lake Irena, Leaser Lake, the Lehigh River, Little Lehigh Creek, Lost Creek, Oil Creek, Ontalaunee Creek, Spring Creek, Strodes Run, Swabia Creek, Whipple Dam, and Wisconsin Creek. My rod & reel combinations have evolved over the years. I can recall my dad handing me a bait-casting set-up on my very first trout outing as a 4-year-old. I learned to cast proficiently in elementary school using a Zebco spincast set-up. At age 11, I procured my first spinning rod and my first fly rod that year, and those have been my primary tools for tangling with brook, brown, and rainbow trout ever since.

In their press releases leading up to our 2026 PA trout seasons, the PA Fish & Boat Commission has posted some fascinating statistics. This year, they will be stocking 3.2 million adult trout (average size 11-inches) in 684 streams and 130 lakes across the Commonwealth. That includes: 2.3 million rainbow trout, 698,000 brown trout, 128,000 brook trout, and 18,000 golden rainbow trout. Additionally, there will be 72,000 trophy-sized rainbow, brown, and brook trout in the 14 to 20-inch range stocked. Periodically, the PFBC hatcheries include several massive former "breeders" that exceed 20-inches on their stocking trucks to provide opportunities to potentially catch a "fish-of-a-lifetime." All across the state, there are numerous rod & gun clubs, and other organizations (such as the Laurel High School Conservation Club) that operate cooperative trout nurseries and their ongoing efforts will produce another 1.1 million trout for stocking. That means 4.3 million trout will be stocked in PA waterways in 2026, keeping PA #1 amongst all 50 states in total adult trout stocked annually! A fact many PA anglers unfortunately take for granted.

Trout can be caught on such a wide variety of terminal tackle. For those choosing to use bait, the options include: worms, salmon eggs, minnows, meal worms, wax worms, maggots, Power Bait, and also the somewhat comical, yet effective, marshmallows, corn, and cheese. Those slinging "hardware" may elect to use spinners (Mepps, Panther Martins, and Rooster Tails are all popular options), jigs (such as Trout Magnets), spoons (small red & white Dardevles or bright Kastmasters are effective), and even small crankbaits (like a floating Rapala) to catch trout. Fly fisherman can tailor their offerings to "match the hatch" where the trout are feeding in the water column, since trout primarily feed on aquatic insects. Weighted nymphs target trout feeding on or near the bottom. Wet flies represent an insect emerging through the water column, while dry flies imitate a mature insect on the water's surface that is just taking flight or one that has expired and is now floating on the surface. Finally, there are larger streamers, which fly fisherman use to imitate a baitfish, and which happens to be my favorite means to entice larger trout, especially brown trout, to strike. Regardless of how you elect to pursue trout and whether you choose to "catch & release" or "hook & cook;" just remember, "you do you" and allow the other trout anglers around you to do their own thing, if it is permitted by PFBC regulations on the waters you are fishing.

For some, trout fishing is a social event (like going to deer camp). For others, it is a highly reflective and restorative experience out in nature. Whatever your reason to get on the water, take yourself, a friend, and the children in your life to catch some trout real soon!

God Bless, Be Safe, and Great Outdoors!

Our Daily Bread

Humbly Asking for Help

All the believers were together and had everything in common.

Acts 2:44

READ Acts 2:42-47

As our party approached, my wife and I started planning. With many people coming, should we pay a caterer to cook? If we do the cooking ourselves, should we buy a barbeque? With a small chance of rain on the day, should we buy a tent too? Soon our party was getting expensive, and even a little antisocial. By trying to provide everything ourselves, we were missing an opportunity to receive the help of others.

The Bible's vision of community is one of both giving and receiving. Even before the fall, Adam needed help (Genesis 2:18), and we're called to seek others' advice (Proverbs 15:22) and share our burdens (Galatians 6:2). The early church held "everything in common," benefiting from each other's "property and possessions" (Acts 2:44-45). Instead of living independently, they shared, borrowed, gave, and received in beautiful interdependence.

We ended up asking guests to bring a salad or dessert to our party. Our neighbors brought their barbeque, and a friend brought his tent. Asking for help enabled us to forge closer relationships, and the food people made brought variety and delight. In an age like ours, being self-sufficient can be a source of pride. But God gives His grace "to the humble" (James 4:6), including those who humbly ask for help. By Sheridan Voysey

REFLECT AND PRAY

What stops you from asking for help? What do you currently need that you could borrow instead of buy? Dear God, thank You for making us relational creatures. Please help me to live humbly, sharing both my wealth and needs with others.

Now Here's A Tip

by JoAnn Derson

- Wrap the metal end of your paintbrush with masking tape before painting. Then you can peel it off and there's no stuck-on paint.
- Metal shower hooks can be used in the sewing basket to hold safety pins. They can be used in a jewelry box to corral costume rings as well.

- Tongs lost their clip? Use the rubber band from a bunch of broccoli to hold the ends together in storage.
- When you make a meringue, be sure to spread it all the way to the crust on all sides. If you do, it won't shrink.
